📌 VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT 📌

This year at the City-Bay Fun Run, we're thrilled to have SchoolKits for Congo lending a helping hand at the finish line! Their volunteers will be keeping runners refreshed, handing out drinks, and sharing their incredible energy with everyone crossing the line.

SchoolKits for Congo is a truly remarkable charity operating in Goma, on the Rwandan border of DR Congo—a region affected by years of conflict and ongoing occupation by the Rwandan-backed militia M23. The organisation provides vital school kits to children who are orphans or refugees, giving them the tools to continue their education despite incredible challenges. But their work goes beyond just education. They empower local mothers by providing skilled work sewing the bags and uniforms, helping them earn an income and gain a sense of dignity and community. Through a partnership with SewAid International, these women have a well-equipped workspace, transforming lives and creating a supportive environment for those who were otherwise isolated. Founded in late 2023, the organisation has already mobilised hundreds of volunteers across Australia, including high school students, and has successfully distributed 157 SchoolKits this year – even amidst ongoing conflict. Led by Penny Vos (Australia) and Alphonse Waseka Kamango (Congo), the team is dedicated to ensuring children in Goma have access to education and other fundamental human rights.

By volunteering at City-Bay, their incredible team is helping us create a smooth, welcoming finish for every participant, while also raising awareness for the life-changing work they do overseas. Keep an eye out for them at the finish line and give them a big thank you for their dedication and impact!
